✦✦ Mystics Series 1: Celtic Spirituality for Today

What does Celtic Christianity offer to us in our lives today?

You will probably have heard of Patrick and Brigid and maybe Columcille (Columba), but what about Hild, Boisil, Kieron, Caedmon and Ita? Can these 6th and 7th century Christians help us to answer some of our 21st century questions?

- What will I do with today?
- What am I here for?
- How do I wait when the way is not clear?
- How do I balance giving hospitality to others and taking time for silence and prayer?

You are invited to a morning of input, reflection and sharing on the mysticism of the thirteenth century, Dominican abbot and theologian, Thomas Aquinas and his brother Dominican Meister Eckhart as they reveal the profoundly intimate relationship with God that they experienced through prayer.

God delights. God is always rejoicing and doing so with a single and simple delight. In fact, it is appropriate to say that love and joy are the only human emotions that we can attribute literally to God. Thomas Aquinas

You ask me what the human soul is? No human science can ever fathom what the soul is in its ground, no one knows. But this we do know: The soul is where God works compassion. Meister Eckhart

MARY MACKILLOP: AUSSIE PIONEER AND CHANGEMAKER

Peter Cahalan, inaugural History Trust CEO, will discuss Mary MacKillop, the national changemaker whose work as a pioneering educator and social reformer changed the lives of countless Australians. Commencing in Penola SA (1866) her outreach grew exponentially as courageous young women joined her in Adelaide from mid-1867, spreading their work across South Australia and thence into the other Australian colonies and New Zealand. Mary's story continues to touch hearts: her legacy lives on!

Following his talk in Bethany Centre, Peter will be joined by Mary MacKillop Museum Director, Mary Ryan rsj, for a Q&A time, then a guided tour of the Museum.

✦✦ Mystics Series 4: Teresa of Avila

Teresa was born in Spain in 1515. She became a Carmelite and a profound near death experience and an encounter with Christ changed her completely as she set about reforming the Carmelites and establishing new monasteries across Spain. Teresa believed that we are all capable of being mystics.

Teresa's famous prayer, "Christ has no now but yours" reminds us that we called to compassionate love and service. We are also invited to enter into a joy-filled relationship with God as Teresa recalled in her writings: Just those two words He spoke changed my life: "Enjoy Me."

✦✦ Embracing the Wonderful Imperfect in Us

We so often focus on the need to strive for perfection. This reflection provides the opportunity to explore and embrace our wonderful imperfections and discover our authentic self, the person who God loves unconditionally.

God's love for us is unconditional, wholehearted and continual. There is nothing we can do to make God love us more - and there is nothing we can do to make God love us less.

✦✦ Mystics Series 5: Mystical Poets including Rumi, Gerard Manley Hopkins, Mary Oliver and David Whyte

Hopkins was a Jesuit priest whose poetry was not published until after his death. It broke the rules of poetry and left us with some of the most memorable lines ever:

The world is charged with the grandeur of God, it will flame out, like shining from shook foil...

Hopkins saw the essence of God in all that God has made and the language of his poetry draws us into the same intimacy.

Over 600 years before Hopkins, Rumi a Persian poet, Islamic scholar, theologian and Sufi mystic drew his followers into a Divine Dance where finding and being found by the Beloved is the soul's purpose. Rumi crosses all cultural and faith divides with his language of love.

Even if you think poetry is not for you, I invite you to meet our mystical poets and see the world as they described it.

✦✦ Encountering God in Silence and Solitude

We can often have a feeling of being 'choked' by all the things in our lives and the busyness that can overwhelm us.

Solitude and silence can be what keeps our souls fueled to prevent burnout, a place of creation, a place of letting go, of emptying ourselves from clutter, of filling up with abundance.

Being with God in silence and solitude can be a place where we appreciate God in a new life-giving way. It provides an opportunity to open up a new level of intimacy with God, a place where we can BE.

This day encourages participants to reflect upon their own spiritual journey through the arts. The expressive arts enlarge our capacity to see the holy at work in the world and offer us insights into the movements of the Spirit within us. Woven throughout the day, music, photography, poetry, story-telling and indigenous art help us to reflect upon our own spiritual journey and give us a space to be nourished.

Participants do not require any specific artistic skills to engage this day.

Catherine lived in the late Middle Ages. Her theology encapsulated in her instruction to God meant you to be and you will world on fire."

Artemisia was born towards the end of the Renaissance and while her art was influenced by the male artists, her depictions of women are much more realistic than those of her male counterparts, highlighting the sensual physicality of real women made of flesh and blood rather than sculpted perfection.

This session will encourage you to explore the contribution of these women to current issues including church renewal and the impact of unrealistic body images on people's self-esteem.

✦✦ Mystic Series 6: John of the Cross

As we prepare during Advent to enter into the mystery of God becoming one of us, spending time with the Spanish mystic John of the Cross we will enter with him into the intimacy of the soul's suffering for longing for the Beloved, and the joy of Love breaking through.

John wrote the following poem:

If you want, the Virgin will come walking down the road pregnant with the holy ... and say,

"I need shelter for the night, please take me inside your house for my time is so close"

*Then, under the roof of your soul, you will witness the sublime intimacy, the divine, the Christ taking birth forever,
As she grasps your hand for help, for each of us is the midwife of God, each of us.*
